GoM to finalise recommendations for GST on online gaming, casinos, horse racing today

Nitin Gupta, Chairman, CBDT

SHSHIRSIHA
New Delhi, September 4

The Income Tax Department has urged 'winners' of an online gaming platform (who won about ₹58,000 crore during the last three years) to file revised return and pay the required taxes. Talking to BusinessLine, CBDT Chairman Nitin Gupta, said the department has found data on the 'winners' in three fiscal years (FY20, FY21 and FY22). However, he refused to name the company, citing the confidentiality clause returns for earnings that could not be included in the original return. This will be allowed for the last two AYs but with an additional payment of 25-50 per cent of dues. "No expenses are allowed. If you have lost the game, nothing is allowed. Each win is taxed. It is like lottery. Loss cannot be adjusted against the win," Gupta clarified. This means the total tax due in this case is to the tune of ₹20,000 crore.

'Winner' tax
"The taxpayer should come forward voluntarily and it is the best thing. Some may have earned more and some less, some might have earned in millions and some in small amounts," he said. Not filing the return could result in a department action. The new scheme allows an assessee to file

GoM meet
A group of Ministers led by Meghalaya CM Conrad Sangma is expected to finalise its recommendation for GST on online gaming, casinos and horse racing. Once it is finalised, it will be placed before the GST Council meeting, likely to take place later this month.

I really commend Ramesh and all the players in India 2 to pull themselves together. In fact, I had the chance to meet many of them yesterday evening, and they had kind of taken it on the chin and we're getting ready to play a game today.
